

Kathryn Hulmes of Setfords Solicitors offers free and confidential 1-2-1 Family Law clinics to Police Federation members.

As a specialist in working with police officers and their families for a number of years, Kathryn is here to offer supportive and empathetic advice tailored to your personal situation. She is highly experienced in dealing with police divorces, with an in-depth knowledge of the complexities of police divorce.

Kathryn is able to provide the specific legal advice you need, explaining everything clearly and making sure you're aware of all of your options.

Her expertise includes:

- Divorce
- Civil partnership dissolution
- Financial implications of relationship breakdown
- Police pensions in divorce
- Pre and post nuptial/civil partnership agreements
- Cohabitation disputes
- Disputes involving children, including paternity issues
- Financial settlements for children
- Domestic violence and emergency injunction proceedings
- International child abduction, relocation within the UK, internationally and cross-border enforcement

Kathryn can be contacted on khulmes@setfords.co.uk

